WIDOW OF POLICEMAN SEEKING A PENSION

In reply to a request from Mrs. Augustus H. Voss, whose husband was in the employ of the Police Department for about thirty-three years, that she be allowed a pension, Major Sylvester says that in his opinion the pension law is not retroactive, and would not apply to the case of one who was on the police force prior to its enactment. The law dates from February 25, 1885, while Voss' last service was January 31, 1883.
